INDEX TO VOL. CCII.

ABYSSINIA, AT THE CORONATION OF THE EMPRESS UIZERO-ZAUDITU OF, 427.

ADMINISTRATION OF INDIA, THE, 513.

ADVENTURES OF AN ENSIGN, THE: Chaps. XIV.-XVII., 34.

AIRMAN'S OUTINGS, AN: V., The Daily Round, 118—VI., Ends and Odds, 139—VII., There and Back, 364.

AMAR NATH, 554. (The most sacred place in Kashmir, visited by pilgrims from the farthest shores of India.)

ANOTHER SIDE-SHOW, 446. (The taking of Mwanza, the German settlement at the south of Lake Victoria Nyanza.)

ARGENTINE MEMORIES: THE ROYAL ROAD, 335.

ARMOURED CARS IN GALICIA, WITH THE, 348.

AT THE TOWN CLUB (A.P.O.x), 474.

AZAIR: THE STORY OF A PILGRIMAGE, 533.

BAGDAD, THE BATTLE BEYOND, 254.

BAGPIPE BALLADS: XII., Fingal's Weeping, 102—XIII., "Hey! Jock, are ye glad ye listed?" 103—XIV., Pipes in Arras, 104—XV., "The Kilt's my Delight," 280—XVI., Romance, 281.

BATTLE (AN INFANTRY SUBALTERN'S IMPRESSIONS): I., Gathering for Battle, 715—II., Eve of Battle, 716—III., Battle, 723—IV., Toll of Battle, 733.

BATTLE OF THE LAKE, THE, 176. (Sweeping the Germans from the waters of Lake Tanganyika.)

"Budget, The People's," echoes of, 696.

"CARRY ON!" (The Continued Chronicle of K(1)). Part II., Chap. II., Tuning up, 375—III., The Overture, 384—IV., The Last Solo, 389—V., Recessional, 540—VI., "Two old soldiers, broken in the Wars," 545.

CARRYING ON, 298.

CHRISTMAS, A GREENWAY, 780.

CHURCHILL, MR WINSTON, 397. His appointment as Minister of Munitions, ib.—first experiment in abuse, 398—arrogant tactlessness at the Colonial Office, ib.—Affairs of Sidney Street and the shepherd of Dartmoor when Home Secretary, 399 et seq.—a slur upon our judges, 401—indiscretions as First Lord of the Admiralty, 402 et seq.

Conscientious objectors, pampering the, 697—the "Conchys" on Dartmoor, 699—should be stripped of influence, ib.

DAWN, 505.

DESERT, A DAY IN THE, 808.

"DESPARD, THE UNFORTUNATE COLONEL," 66. Similarity between the tale of and that of Roger Casement, ib.—Despard's early history, 68—his association with Nelson, 69—becomes ruler of British Honduras, 71—comes home for investigation into his rule, 72—post abolished, he joins the "English Jacobins," 73—released after two years' imprisonment, his rancorous and treasonable plots ultimately bring him to the scaffold, 74 et seq.

"DREAMS, THE CITY OF," 188.

Education Bill, the new, 424—what is a "poor man"? ib.—an educated proletariat, 425.

EMPRESS UIZERO-ZAUDITU OF ABYSSINIA, AT THE CORONATION OF THE, 427.

ENSIGN, THE ADVENTURES OF AN: Chaps. XIV.-XVII., 34.

FINEST SPORT IN THE WORLD, THE, 90.

FRANCE, THE SPIRIT OF: I., Reims, 813—II., A Battlefield, 815—III., Verdun, 818—IV., Why Victory is certain, 820—V., Paris in War-Time, 824.

FRANCE, THE INDIAN ARMY CORPS IN, 1. The Army of India, ib.—reasons which militated against this first-class school being kept to its high standard, 3—composition of First Army Corps which sailed from India

INDEX TO VOL. CCII.

ABYSSINIA, AT THE CORONATION OF THE EMPRESS UIZERO-ZAUDITU OF, 427.

ADMINISTRATION OF INDIA, THE, 513.

ADVENTURES OF AN ENSIGN, THE: Chaps. XIV.-XVII., 34.

AIRMAN'S OUTINGS, AN: V., The Daily Round, 118—VI., Ends and Odds, 139—VII., There and Back, 364.

AMAR NATH, 554. (The most sacred place in Kashmir, visited by pilgrims from the farthest shores of India.)

ANOTHER SIDE-SHOW, 446. (The taking of Mwanza, the German settlement at the south of Lake Victoria Nyanza.)

ARGENTINE MEMORIES: THE ROYAL ROAD, 335.

ARMOURED CARS IN GALICIA, WITH THE, 348.

AT THE TOWN CLUB (A.P.O.x), 474.

AZAIR: THE STORY OF A PILGRIMAGE, 533.

BAGDAD, THE BATTLE BEYOND, 254.

BAGPIPE BALLADS: XII., Fingal's Weeping, 102—XIII., "Hey! Jock, are ye glad ye listed?" 103—XIV., Pipes in Arras, 104—XV., "The Kilt's my Delight," 280—XVI., Romance, 281.

BATTLE (AN INFANTRY SUBALTERN'S IMPRESSIONS): I., Gathering for Battle, 715—II., Eve of Battle, 716—III., Battle, 723—IV., Toll of Battle, 733.

BATTLE OF THE LAKE, THE, 176. (Sweeping the Germans from the waters of Lake Tanganyika.)

"Budget, The People's," echoes of, 696.

"CARRY ON!" (The Continued Chronicle of K(1)). Part II., Chap. II., Tuning up, 375—III., The Overture, 384—IV., The Last Solo, 389—V., Recessional, 540—VI., "Two old soldiers, broken in the Wars," 545.

CARRYING ON, 298.

CHRISTMAS, A GREENWAY, 780.

CHURCHILL, MR WINSTON, 397. His appointment as Minister of Munitions, ib.—first experiment in abuse, 398—arrogant tactlessness at the Colonial Office, ib.—Affairs of Sidney Street and the shepherd of Dartmoor when Home Secretary, 399 et seq.—a slur upon our judges, 401—indiscretions as First Lord of the Admiralty, 402 et seq.

Conscientious objectors, pampering the, 697—the "Conchys" on Dartmoor, 699—should be stripped of influence, ib.

DAWN, 505.

DESERT, A DAY IN THE, 808.

"DESPARD, THE UNFORTUNATE COLONEL," 66. Similarity between the tale of and that of Roger Casement, ib.—Despard's early history, 68—his association with Nelson, 69—becomes ruler of British Honduras, 71—comes home for investigation into his rule, 72—post abolished, he joins the "English Jacobins," 73—released after two years' imprisonment, his rancorous and treasonable plots ultimately bring him to the scaffold, 74 et seq.

"DREAMS, THE CITY OF," 188.

Education Bill, the new, 424—what is a "poor man"? ib.—an educated proletariat, 425.

EMPRESS UIZERO-ZAUDITU OF ABYSSINIA, AT THE CORONATION OF THE, 427.

ENSIGN, THE ADVENTURES OF AN: Chaps. XIV.-XVII., 34.

FINEST SPORT IN THE WORLD, THE, 90.

FRANCE, THE SPIRIT OF: I., Reims, 813—II., A Battlefield, 815—III., Verdun, 818—IV., Why Victory is certain, 820—V., Paris in War-Time, 824.

FRANCE, THE INDIAN ARMY CORPS IN, 1. The Army of India, ib.—reasons which militated against this first-class school being kept to its high standard, 3—composition of First Army Corps which sailed from India in 1914, 6—unfortunate in choice of ground assigned to them in Flanders, 7—bearing of the Indian troops in unsuitable and strange surroundings, 8 et seq.—work, gallant deeds, Victoria Crosses won, &c., 11 et seq.

FRONTIER VENDETTA, A, 658.

GALICIA, WITH THE ARMOURED CARS IN, 348.

Galloping down lions, see "The Finest Sport in the World," 90.

GERMANY, HOW I ESCAPED FROM, 440.

GHELUVELT, 1914: THE MAN WHO TURNED THE TIDE, 209. (Evidence of the heroic part played by General C. FitzClarence, V.C., in the turning of the tide at Ypres.)

Government, the failure of the, to govern, 833.

GREENWAY CHRISTMAS, A, 780.

GREENWAY, ISA, BELOVED, 222.

Haldane, Lord, the whitewashing of, 567—eternally blameworthy, 569.

HIGHLANDS, LETTERS FROM THE, 1750-1790, 673.

H.M.S. ——: I., A Naval Discussion, 601—II., The Gunlayer, 604—III., A Wage Slave, 803—IV., An "Annual," 805.

History of the British Army,' Mr Fortescue's notice of eighth volume of, 133—Wellington's difficulties in the Peninsula, 135—the liberator of Europe, 137.

HURNÄM-SINGH, 799.

INDIA REVISITED (A RECORD OF CANDID IMPRESSIONS): I. Eastward Ho!—Despite the Hun, 571—II. Our Brethren in Exile, 576—III. The "What India thinks of the War" Myth, 582—IV. Some Mixed Impressions and some Frank Reflections, 588—V. The British Subaltern in India and his Native Army: together with some Final Conclusions and a Word in Season, 594.

INDIA, THE ADMINISTRATION OF, 513.

INDIAN ARMY CORPS IN FRANCE, THE, 1.

"International Peace, Carnegie Endowment for," 692—greetings to the Russian Revolution, 693.

Ireland, the freedom of, 265—absolved from all the hardships and inconveniences of the war, 266—Sinn Fein and Germany, 267—the Convention, 268—Mr De Valera and East Clare, 269—the end of the Nationalists, 270—Captain Mahan's opinion, 271—enforce the law! 272.

ISA GREENWAY, BELOVED, 222.

KAIETEUR THE MAGNIFICENT, 644. A foretaste of the rainy season in British Guiana at Georgetown, ib.—up the Demerara river to Wismar, 645—ghastly tales at Rockstone, 646—a pack of howlers, 647—the mighty Essequibo, 648—Tumatumari, 649—through the jungle, 650—passage of the Potaro, 651—the cataract at Amatuk, 652—paddling and climbing, 653—awful majesty of the falls, 655 et seq.

KALAPANI, 837. (The Indian penal settlement in the Andaman Islands.)

Keary, Charles, death of, 835—his work as novelist and historian, ib. et seq.

Labour Party, the, 827—the sheep or the shepherds? 829—the grievances of the wage-earners, ib. et seq.—why Labour is sectarian and not national, 831.

LAKE, THE BATTLE OF THE, 176.

LETTERS FROM THE HIGHLANDS, 1750-1790, 673.

Lions, galloping down, 90.

MAN SINGH, 506.

MARTIAL LAW IN THE SUDAN, AN INCIDENT OF, 702.

MEMORIES, ARGENTINE: THE ROYAL ROAD, 335.

Mesopotamia and the Commons, 272—the Politicians and the Press, 273—the Report, 275—whose is the responsibility? 277—the duty of the House of Commons, 279.

'Morley, Viscount, Recollections of John,' notice of, 850.

MUSINGS WITHOUT METHOD: July, 127—August, 265—September, 416—October, 560—November, 692—December, 827.

NGOLOKO, THE (A MYSTERY OF THE AFRICAN BUSH), 609.

NIGHTMARE, A, 825.

ON PATROL.—I. Wet Ships, 171—To Fritz, 172—After the War, 173—(1916.) The Sailor's View, 175. II. Low visibility, 308—Hang on, 309—1797, 310. III. To ——, 779.

ON RECONNAISSANCE, 240.

ORIGIN OF THE SUBMARINE, THE, 106.

OUTINGS, AN AIRMAN'S: V., The Daily Round, 118—VI., Ends and Odds, 139—VII., There and Back, 364.

PARLIAMENT AND PRICES, 739. Pre-Parliament instances of trade and shipping laws, ib.—records of Parliamentary control of prices from earliest times, 740 et seq.—the famous Statute of Labourers, 745—abandonment of tillage in the fourteenth century, 747—the wool trade, ib. et seq.—the question of wages, 749—similarity of laws passed by the present Government to those passed in the fourteen hundreds, 750 et seq.

PILGRIMAGE, THE STORY OF A: AZAIR, 533.

PILLOW, THE PEOPLE WITHOUT A, 283.

Politics, our system of, 560—a National

Party, 561—a justly-balanced Constitution necessary, 563—reform, union, and defence, 564—Bolingbroke's image of a patriot king, 565.

POULIS, THE: I., 483—II., "Met at last," 485—III., "Kismet"—Fate, 487—IV., "Amán, amán, epiasen mia horítsa"—"Alas, alas, they snatch a maid," 492—V., "The Rendezvous," 493—VI., "O Polemos"—The Battle—Rescue of Ayeshé, 495—VII., "Desperate efforts made to arrest the malefactors," 497—VIII., Entrapped at last, 498—IX., At bay—death of Hussein Pouli, 500—X., How the news affected Hassan Pouli, and his tragic death, 502.

Prussia, Heine's condemnation of, 129—her sinister part in Russia to-day, 130.

Ramsay Macdonald, the sad fate of Mr, 133.

RECOLLECTIONS, LORD MORLEY'S, 850.

Russia, the Revolution in, 127—her obligation to the Allies, 131—Germany's assumed contempt for, ib.

SIDE-SHOW, ANOTHER, 446.

SINAI, SEAPLANING IN, 709.

SINGH, MAN, 506.

SPOILS OF WAR, 83.

SPY IN BLACK, THE: Part I. The Narrative of Lieutenant von Belke (of the German Navy). I., The Landing, 151—II., Night in the Ruined House, 155—III., Behind the Wall, 159—IV., The Nails, 164—V., Waiting, 169. Part II. A few chapters by the Editor. I., The Pleasant Stranger, 311—II., The Chauffeur, 315—III., On the Cliff, 319—IV., Mr Drummond's Visitor, 321—V., On the Mail Boat, 325—VI., The Vanishing Governess, 330. Part III. Lieutenant von Belke's narrative resumed. I., The Meeting, 455—II., Tiel's Story, 458—III., The Plan, 463—IV., What happened on Sunday, 467—V., A Mysterious Adventure, 471—VI., The Visitor, 618—VII., At Night, 623—VIII., The Decision, 626—IX., On the Shore, 630. Part IV. Lieutenant von Belke's narrative concluded. I., Wednesday, 633—II., Thursday, 637—III., Thursday Night, 760—IV., Friday, 764. Part V. A few concluding chapters by the Editor. I., Tiel's Journey, 767—II., The Lady, 771—III., The Empty Envelope, 774.

SRINAGAR, 408. (A glimpse of the capital of Kashmir, its people, streets, architecture, crafts, &c.)

Stockholm, indecision of the Government in regard to, 420—the Pope and peace, 421—the freedom of the seas, 423.

SUBMARINE, THE ORIGIN OF THE, 106.

SUDAN, AN INCIDENT OF MARTIAL LAW IN THE, 702.

SUGAR, WHY WE ARE SHORT OF, 354.

THE NGOLOKO (A MYSTERY OF THE AFRICAN BUSH), 609.

Titles, the sale of, 416—honour rooted in dishonour, 418—what is the meaning of reform? 419.

TOWN CLUB (A.P.O.X.), AT THE, 474.

VENDETTA, A FRONTIER, 658.

VOICES, THE, 504.

WAR, SPOILS OF, 83.

WHY WE ARE SHORT OF SUGAR, 354.

WORLD, THE FINEST SPORT IN THE, 90.

Printed by William Blackwood and Sons.